ASSOCIATED WITH A NOTORIOUSLY BAD CROWD

In the municipal court this morning, D. Rodriguez, a familiar figure in the court for several weeks past, was sentenced to pay a fine of $15 or to serve 15 days in jail, on a charge of vagrancy.

While telling his story, Rodriguez said that he had been held in the county jail since last Friday on another charge and claimed that the officers had been bounding him. He said that, just before he was arrested, a member of the Eagles lodge had seen the Eagles pin that he was wearing and had asked him if he was hungry. He answered in the affirmative and the man gave him 50 cents and took him into a saloon and they had a drink of beer. While in the saloon the officers arrested him.

In answer to the intimation that the officers had bounded him, Deputy Sheriff Hobson said that Rodriguez had been associating with a notorious bad crowd of yeggmen and crooks, some of whom were under suspicion as having been connected with the Hansen saloon holdup. He had also been loafing around the streets, a number of days without any visible means of support and loitering that he was a bad man. They had, therefore, arrested and held him for investigation.

When sentenced and taken from the court room, Rodriguez said, "Well, I'll have to serve the 15 days, but I'll not do a bit of work while I'm in there."

Royal Jensen pleaded guilty to the charge of riding a bicycle, on the sidewalk. He was read the ordinance and sentenced to pay the minimum fine, $3.

L. B. Walker forfeited bail.

JUDGE HEARS STORY OF NEIGHBORS' QUARREL

The case of the City vs. George Vogel, charged with assault, proved quite a complicated affair and frequent fits between Assistant City Attorney John Heywood and R. S. Farnsworth, the defendant's lawyer, as to the admission of evidence, made the case interesting from the spectators point of view.

Vogel was alleged to have struck Mrs. Gertrude Baker with a hammer, during an altercation on December 4. Both parties live on adjoining property near the old University site.

Mrs. Baker, the complainant, was the first witness and her statement was to the effect that Vogel had trespassed upon her property and had on a number of occasions climbed over her fences, breaking them down. On the day in question she had gone over to tell him that he would have to keep off of her property. She went to where Vogel was working on his own property. He became angry and had struck her on the arm and leg with a hammer. Cross-questioning by Attorney Farnsworth brought out the fact that the had taken a 22 rifle with her when she went to see Vogel and that the defendant had taken it away from her and thrown it on the ground, breaking it. When asked why she had taken the gun, she said that she had it to protect herself from Vogel's dog.

Vogel, in his statement, said that Mrs. Baker had come over to his house and had threatened to kill him with the gun and that he had taken the weapon away from her after a hard struggle. He denied that he had struck her and said that he was working at the time of the quarrel with a pair of pliers and that he had dropped them when the woman came up to him.

Further evidence brought out the fact that trouble had existed between the two parties a considerable length of time and that both had been guilty of trespass.

After considering the evidence, Judge Reeder impressed upon both parties the propriety of appealing to the law instead of taking matters into their own hands and he allowed Vogel to go with a six months' suspended sentence.

DISCOURAGING IS THE OUTLOOK FOR THE SUGAR MEN

Speaking of the beet sugar business and the prospects for future manufacturing, Secretary Fred Taylor of the Amalgamated Sugar company of this city, is rather pessimistic, and he is of the opinion that, unless the United States congress changes its attitude regarding sugar tariff, there will be disastrous results to the sugar business in the course of the next few years. In an interview this morning he said:

"In the last few months considerable discussion has been had with reference to the probable outcome of the sugar industry. A great many honest thinking people have expressed themselves as being of the belief that the political disadvantages to the sugar industry as stated by the sugar companies were very much exaggerated for political purposes, and that there was not the remotest danger of any of the companies being obliged to go out of business.

"In other words, they seem inclined to think that the frequent statements by the sugar companies of the probable disadvantages of reduced or free tariff, are nothing more or less than bluff. In this connection it seems proper to state at this time that several factories have already declared their intention of closing with the finishing of this season's run, the latest report of this character coming from Jonesville, Wisconsin, the Rock River Sugar company having reported its intention of closing. During the past few weeks the local sugar office has received offers from several California houses, proffering to sell the supply of seed which they had purchased for this season's planting, at a reduced price, as they have decided to discontinue operating.

"The Hamilton Sugar company of North Sacramento valley are preparing to devote their large acreage here to the cultivation in sugar beets to grain culture in 1914, and the Alameda Sugar company has declared the same intention. We have also received a report that Fallon, Nevada, and four other middle west factories have already decided to discontinue operations indefinitely.

"It is not reasonable to suppose that these people are assuming this attitude with any view of blurring, but rather that their profits have been such as to indicate that it would be impossible to operate under any reduction of the present tariff rates. "It is pleasing to note, however, that even in the face of these operations disadvantages in other districts, that our local companies have declared their intention of contracting with the farmers for beets on the same basis as last year, and their attitude in this matter is certainly deserving of the loyal support of local citizens, both with reference to the production of beets and the consumption of their splendid product. It is unfortunate to note that a great quantity of cane sugar is consumed in this district, notwithstanding the fact that our local product is equal in every particular and in some instances superior to the imported product."

In Judge J. A. Howell's division of the district court this morning "Ben" Forman was arraigned on the charge of grand larceny. He pleaded not guilty to the information and the time for trial will be fixed at some future time.

The information alleges that Forman on August 7, of this year, stole a horse from William Pearce and a buggy and harness from William Anderson.

It will be recalled that Forman disappeared from the vicinity of Salt Lake and then made his way to Logan where he was arrested on a charge of robbery. If he escapes conviction here, the Logan officers say they will press their charge against him.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 18.—Lower cables, the result of bearish crop figures from this country and of more favorable weather in Argentina and India, made the wheat market today easy. The opening, which was 18 to 3-8c lower, was followed by a slight reaction.

Fine weather, promising a heavy movement of the new crop, pulled down corn. Prices started the same as last night to 18@14c off and continued to sag.

Most of the oats crowd were inclined to work on the bear side. First sales of provisions varied from 1-2 to 10c higher and later there was an additional upturn.

Assertions by a wheat crop expert that only a positive calamity would prevent a record yield of winter wheat increased sentiment against the bulls. The closing figures were weak, 1@1-18 to 1-18c net lower.

Increasing stocks southwest led to a further setback in corn. The close was steady at a net decline of 3-4 to 3-4@7-8c.

been that the parties found guilty of having deserted their families were imprisoned, the county commission-ers making provisions for the family by allowing the prisoner $1 a day for work that he might do around the courthouse.

It is thought by the court that the plan of releasing such men on probation and placing them under bonds to take care of their families will result doubly good, as it will be the means of getting the relief sought by the family and also release the county from extra expense.

In the meantime, the defendant will have his liberty and be given an opportunity to retrieve his past actions. A violation of the order of the court will work a forfeiture of the bond and subject the defendant to arrest.

Dr. Ada Davidson and Miss May Stewart also live in the same house. Mrs. Margaret Stevens said that she had been robbed of a gold pendant valued at $75, a gold chain worth $10, a gold locket valued at $10, $2.50 in silver and a pair of cuff links worth $4.

Dr. Ada Davidson lost a diamond brooch valued at $30 and a gold chain worth $10.

The robbery occurred between 3 and 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was discovered early in the evening, but was not reported to the police until about 11 o'clock. From the manner in which the burglars opened the jewel cases and drawers it was apparent that they knew the location of every piece of jewelry in the house. Entrance was gained through a rear door with a skeleton key.

An investigation of both robberies was made by Sergeant Charles Layne and Detective Thomas Burk, but no clew was found.
